You get addicted. Pay to win. Do I have to say anymore? Before you played this game, you need skills, not money, to stop giving the game to the developers to 1 star and actually find this game while browsing the App Store, and it is a unique and fun game. Creating an army and watching it grow is fun and different looks can make your army look great. Another thing I like is that ads are not pushed in your face. Do you want free rewards? There are no other ads (hard to say in other mobile games). This game is a diamond in the pit, which is the mobile gaming industry. The only problem with loving this game is that it's hard to get coins. It takes forever! I just want to remove the possibility that we need better graphics that need better visuals it has really good and fun possibilities and it is so far, but keep adding things, it can be fun in this state for so long.
